Weekly Learning Review - Year 5

13.3.23

In Maths this week we have been:

- Rounding decimals to the nearest tenth.
- Rounding decimals to the nearest hundredth.
- Comparing fractions with 2 decimal places.

In English this week we have been:

- Planning our own description of an island using figurative language.
- Drafting, editing and writing our own description to help the reader to clearly visualise the island.

Other:

- On Tuesday, we went to Melton country park for an orienteering (P.E.) competition and learnt how to navigate using a map.
- In D&T, we learnt how to thread a needle and create basic stitches ready for our Tudor purses that we will be making.

This week's homework:

- Complete the times table sheet.
- Reading: Regularly reading including your Oxford Owl book and completing your reading log.
